The Rust Society

RustWeek - 2025

The Rust Society

The current state of Domain Working Groups

- There are a few existing domain wgs
- domain wgs: focused on a set of users or use-cases
- Moratorium on new domain wgs
- Project unsure what to do with domain wgs
- discussions on "rust is what it ships"

The Launching Pad Team

- Holds teams that don't fit into another top level team
- Today: mostly "cross functional teams" and "domain wgs"
- Desire to be permanent home for "cross functional teams"
- Need to sort out "domain wgs"

The Rust Society

The Rust Society

- A structure for "user groups" of Rust
- A minimal set of requirements (coc, landing page)
- organized by a launching-pad subteam
- society members not considered project members

What value does the Rust Society have?

- A “nucleation site” to grow interest
- “discovery”:
  - for collaborators
  - when project teams need to reach out
- paths to form project groups or foundation consortiums

How can people join?

The Rust Society

- today: https://github.com/jamesmunns/rust-society
- please open an issue if you or your group are interested!

What's next?

- Find initial groups interested in being members
- Formalize bylaws (minimal)
- Find initial group of leads to form project subteam
- Move existing domain wgs
